A99-08-026 San Diego Gas & Electric Company, application in the 1999 revenue adjustment proceeding.

Summary: On October 2, 2000, Michael Hoover, Director of Regulatory Affairs of Southern California Edison Company (SCE), met with Cmmr. Neep and Cmmr. Wood in two separate meetings in San Francisco. At the meeting with Cmmr. Neep also present was David Gamson, advisor to Cmmr. Neep, and at the meetings with Cmmr. Wood – Maryam Ebke, advisor to Cmmr. Wood, and Bruce Foster, Vice President of Regulatory Operations of SCE. SCE noted serious flaws in the Cmmr. Neep’s revised alternate and that the proposed decision of ALJ Barnett should be adopted after it is modified to reflect SCE’s comments. SCE stated that the revised alternate ignores the reality by assuming away default provider obligation of utilities when calculating Long Run Marginal Cost or procurement. SCE also pointed out that the revised alternate errs by basing the credit calculation on average costs, and relies on a seriously flawed the Office of Ratepayer Advocates’ analysis of procurement costs. SCE added that the revised alternate fails to recognize standard economic theory by ignoring the fact that, even in the Long Run, some costs may be fixed, and can only be avoided by discontinuing the service.

Red & White Ferries, Inc., to temporarily suspend scheduled weekday vessel common carrier service between Richmond and San Francisco.

Summary: On October 2, 2000, Thomas Escher, President of Red & White Ferry, Inc. ("Red & White") met with Lester Wong, advisor to Cmmr. Bilas, Lynn McGhee, advisor to Cmmr. Duque, and Trina Horner, advisor to Cmmr. Lynch, in three separate meetings in San Francisco. At the meeting with Lynn McGhee also present was Laura Krannawitter, advisor to Cmmr. Duque, and at the meeting with Trina Horner - Jonathan Lakritz, advisor to Cmmr. Wood. Confidential written material used at all meetings was submitted under seal with a notice of ex-parte communication filed on October 3, 2000 in this proceeding. Escher explained that Red & White had lost over $1 million over the year since it began providing ferry service between Richmond and San Francisco. Escher also explained that the Emergency Order issued by Cmmr. Bilas on 9-28-2000 would cause the company to incur daily losses of $4,102 per day, which equates to $20,510 per week, or $82,040 per month. Escher urged that the Emergency Order be set aside and that the Commission authorize Red & White to immediately suspend its operations.

Summary: On October 4, 2000, Thomas Escher, President of Red & White Ferry, Inc. ("Red & White") met with Lester Wong, advisor to Cmmr. Bilas, in San Francisco. Also present at the meeting was John Clark of the law firm, Goodin MacBride, Squeri, Ritchie & Day. Wood. Red & White's representatives reiterated its position of cashlessness and that continued ferry operations were being supported by funds extended by Red & White's creditors and investors. They urged the Commission to set aside the Assigned ALJ Order issued on 9-28-2000 as soon as possible and offered to expeditiously furnish any information the Commission may need to understand Red & White's predicament.

Summary: On October 4, 2000, John Clark of the law firm, Goodin MacBride, Squeri, Ritchie & Day, representing Red & White Ferries, Inc. ("Red & White"), had a telephone conversation with Lynn McGhee, advisor to Cmmr. Duque. Clark explained that Red & White's only operations are the Richmond/San Francisco commuter ferry service and the Pacific Bell Ballpark service, which is run only on weekends. Clark explained that Red & White does not provide service to Angel Island, Sausalito, or Tiburon as some reports have stated. Clerk also explained that Red & White's unregulated affiliates provide excursion and charter services on an unregulated basis and have no regulated operations.

Summary: On October 3, 2000, Robert McCarthy of the law firm of McCarthy & Schwartz, which represents Red & White Ferries, Inc. ("Red & White"), sent a letter (attached to the notice) to Cmmr. Lynch. Substantively-identical letters were also sent to Cmmr. Duque, Cmmr. Wood, Cmmr. Bilas, and Cmmr. Neeper. McCarthy explained that Red & White had demonstrated losses in excess of $1,000,000 and that its Richmond/San Francisco ferry service was not economically feasible at this time. McCarthy stated that the Commission has authority to authorize interim suspension, and that it would be wise and fair for the Commission to do so as soon as possible.

Summary: On October 4, 2000, Thomas Escher, President of Red & White Ferry, Inc. ("Red & White") met with Cmmr. Neeper, in San Francisco. On the same day, John Clark of the law firm of Goodin, MacBride, Squeri, Ritchie & Day, left a telephone message for David Gamson, advisor to Cmmr. Neeper. At the meeting, also present were David Gamson and John Clark. Confidential written materials used at the meeting are submitted under seal. Non-confidential materials are attached to the notice. Red & White's representatives explained that the company's fare revenue were insufficient to meet even its barest operating costs and that the company's investors and creditors had decided that they were no longer willing to extend further credit or make further capital infusions to support its service. Red & White's representatives also explained that funds to support continued operation of the service were being extended by the Red & White's investors. Red & White's representatives urged that the Commission grant Red & White authority to cease operation immediately on an interim basis. In his telephone message, Clark stated that Red & White's affiliates engaged in unregulated operations that produced cash used to pay Red & White's expenses, but that such payments have directly depleted profits or payments that otherwise could have been made to the investors and therefore were tantamount to having been made by Escher and other investors themselves.

Summary: On October 3, 2000, Sabrina Chaw, Senior Regulatory Representative, Pacific Gas and Electric Company ("PG&E"), met with Cmmr. Bilas in San Francisco. Also present were Ann Watson, advisor to Cmmr. Bilas; Les Guliasi, Director, Regulatory Relations, Janice Frazier-Hampton, Project Manager, Revenue Requirements, and Jennifer Post, Attorney, of PG&E. Guliasi stated that the Commission should adopt ALJ Barnett's proposed decision (PD) and reject the alternate PD (alternate). Guliasi stated that the alternate errs by concluding that the "average costs" are the equivalent of Long Run Marginal Costs (LRMC), and that Office of Ratepayer Advocates' assertion that all costs are variable assumes away the utilities' default service provider obligation. Guliasi pointed out that PG&E must retain the infrastructure and personnel to serve bundled-service customers, and that PG&E has the obligation to serve direct access customers who return to bundled-customer status. Guliasi stated that the only way for PG&E to reduce its procurement-related cost to a significant degree, would be for PG&E to exit that market entirely and end its procurement role. Guliasi emphasized that until the Legislature and the Commission find that procuring electricity on behalf of customers is something PG&E should stop doing, PG&E has an obligation to meet and a cost to incur. Guliasi commented that the PD adopts a uniform figure for the Power Exchange credit for each of the UDCs, and that the PD bases its result on the LRMC analysis presented by Southern California Edison Company, finding that it is in the interest of public policy to have a single, uniform Power Exchange credit statewide.
